Nestled on a palm-fringed island in the stunning Jao Reserve

Indulge in effortless luxury and sustainable elegance in one of the Okavango's most remote camps, facing the sunrise and overlooking vast open floodplains . As the sun sets in the evening in a breathtaking display of colour, gather around the campfire and watch as the southern sky unveils its endless constellation of stars.

Intimate and exclusive, Kwetsani Camp offers the ultimate Okavango experience, with inspiring wildlife encounters. Nestled on a palm-fringed island in the stunning Jao Reserve, its five elevated treehouse-style tents and family room are tucked among mangosteen and fig trees, offering sweeping views of the floodplains - an invitation to adventure and discovery.

ABOUT KWETSANI

Kwetsani offers a mix of land and water-based activities, depending on the seasonal flood levels. Explore the Delta's winding waterways by mokoro or embark on thrilling game drives. When water levels are high, boat transfers take guests to neighbouring Hunda Island for exceptional game-viewing experiences.

Guided Walks

Guests arrive at Kwetsani via the conveniently located Jao Airstrip, which provides direct access to the area. From there, it's just a scenic 60-minute vehicle transfer or 40-minute boat ride to camp, when the water level is high, offering the perfect introduction to the surrounding wilderness.

WHERE NATURE AND WILDLIFE MOVE IN HARMONY

Kwetsani, one of the most secluded camps in the Okavango, is set on a long, narrow island shaded by palms, mangosteen, and fig trees. The camp features five beautifully furnished “treehouse” tents, each offering an en-suite bathroom and outdoor shower. These elevated and spacious tents are connected by wooden walkways, blending seamlessly into the surrounding wilderness.

The main area, shaded under a cool thatched roof, includes a large dining and lounge space that opens onto a sprawling wooden deck with magnificent views of the floodplain, often dotted with plains game. A walkway leads to the swimming pool, where loungers provide the perfect midday retreat. Guests can unwind while watching wildlife from the comfort of the pool or their private suites.

ENDLESS VIEWS ACROSS THE OPEN FLOODPLAINS

Discover the beauty of the Okavango floodplains at Kwetsani on a game drive through the wilderness terrain, or take a slower pace with a guided walk through the surrounding bush. When water levels allow, glide through the shimmering channels by mokoro or boat for a peaceful perspective. For something truly unforgettable, take to the skies in a helicopter and witness the vast floodplains stretching out in every direction.

ELEVATED COMFORT IN THE HEART OF THE DELTA

Elevated above the floodplains, Kwetsani Camp blends sophisticated design with the spirit of the Delta. Its five treehouse-style suites are crafted from canvas, wood, and glass, each offering a spacious bedroom and lounge, styled with elegant, earthy tones that echo the surrounding wilderness. The elevated positioning of the suites allows for uninterrupted views across the vast, wildlife-rich landscape - whether you're relaxing indoors or taking in the scenery from your private deck.

Kwetsani is more than just a camp - it's part of a greater community. With a strong commitment to uplifting the neighbouring Jao village, the camp actively supports local initiatives by providing food parcels, clothing donations, and meaningful assistance to the elderly. This deep connection to people and place is woven into every stay, adding purpose to the experience of the Delta's wild beauty
